Dear Mr Cameron and Mr Whittingdale,

I am profoundly disturbed at the size of potential cuts to the BBC and what it will mean to this very British institution.

The BBC is part of the intellectual lifeblood of this country. I would like to see it continue to inform, educate and entertain in the way it does at present.

Would you please answer these questions:

[if !supportLists]- [endif]How will you ensure that the upcoming negotiations for the Royal Charter are public and transparent?

The 'backroom' nature of recent negotiations does not become you as a government.

[if !supportLists]- [endif]What is your vision for the BBC?

I am pleased to be able to pay for the BBC and I would like the BBC to continue in its current form.

How will you take my views into account?

Sincerely,

Jean Prince
